A reprint but it is the scarce variety that exists with inverted centre. Mentioned in Scotts.

127

Error imperf. Centre double.

Centre very faint printing.

Error imperf. Misplaced centre.

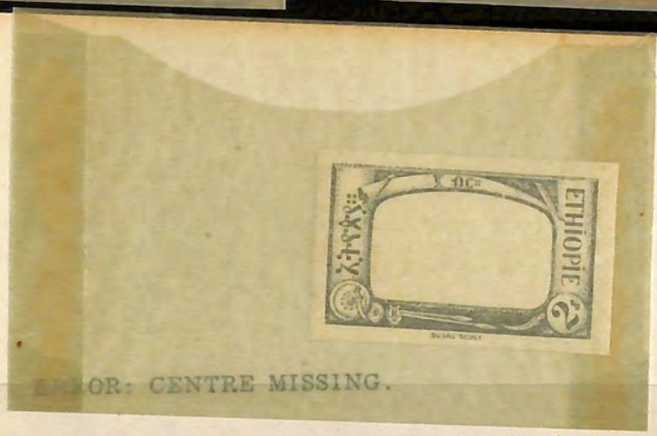
130



ERROR: CENTRE MISSING.

In printing the first stage, namely the frame design, a corner fold or crease, spoiled the sheet. The sheet thus rejected, produced the above incomplete printing error.

122

ERROR: CENTRE MISSING.

In printing the first stage, namely the frame design, a corner fold or crease, spoiled the sheet. The sheet thus rejected, produced the above incomplete printing error.

120

ERROR IMPERFORATE.

Both stages of the printing were done satisfactorily in this case, but due to a fold in the paper, the entire sheet was discarded producing thus an imperforate error.

124

ERROR: CENTRE DOUBLE.

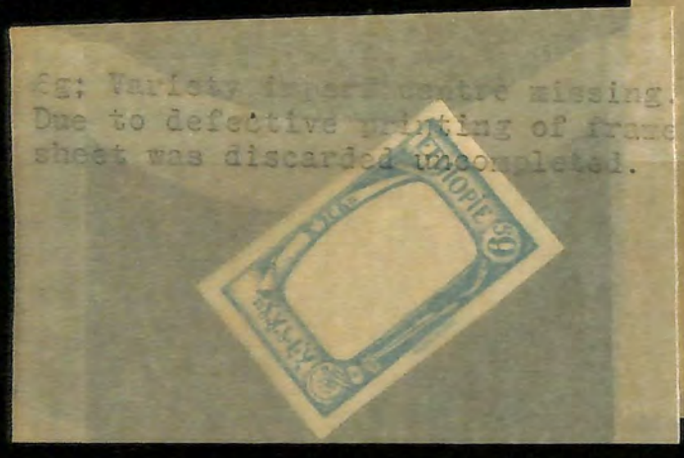
In the second stage of printing, the sheet was fed through twice producing this error.

121

ERROR: FRAME DOUBLE, CENTRE MISSING.

In this case the sheet was fed through twice, producing the double error.

How any printer can repeat an error twice, is difficult to imagine. Yet it happens. I recall certain canadian precancels which were printed quadruple, done by the goverment printer too!



1/8g; Variety imperf centre missing. Due to defective printing of frame sheet was discarded uncompleted.
