 Dear Father

After so long a time
 I have received a letter from you and at once the reason that you did not write any more. I sent a letter to you not long ago. This leaves me well and hope it may find you the same.
 Mother I am sorry that you are unwell
 & hope I may be home before long & then I can help you more than I can here. Things are not so I think this war might come to an end sooner, but no it is all among making war. I might as had my discharge in Camp Demmon as not but no I did not want it then & now if I did want it I could not get it. Well my time will be out soon I hope)

My Dearst Camie
 Sunday Eve May 13th
 So beautiful has the day been that it is beyond my power to describe it to you. Only to say it has been the finest one of the season and indeed grand & beautiful Spring here. Surely I do love it for it is then you see nature in its grandest & so all nice and green and then beautiful flowers, then the sweet warble of the birds, all this combined make every thing indeed sublimely happy you appreciate the splendor of this day as much as I do then I know you are happy but not as much as if we were to go then & then we would admire

Dear Charles

Major New Zealand Post Error. Original silver overprint on 2003 Scenic Definitives. 50c Aha Mountains issued in error and immediately recalled.

Readers of the CP Newsletter will by now be aware of one of the most remarkable philatelic events of the current decade. The description of the variety and the events surrounding it are as follows.

- On 7 May 2003 New Zealand Post issued a new set of Scenic Definitives with new designs printed by Southern Colour Print, Dunedin. This issue embodied a feature for the first time which will in future characterise all New Zealand Post issues – that of a black fern frond printed “somewhere in the design”.
- The purpose of this black fern is to differentiate New Zealand Post’s stamp issues from those of its competitors – those companies which have emerged under Postal Deregulation since 1999 who are now entitled by law to issue their own stamps for use within New Zealand.
- To mark this rather significant event, New Zealand Post decided to issue a number of sheets with a silver fern printed over the black fern on a limited number of sheets. The number of sheets overprinted is as follows – 50c value - 500 sheets, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 and $5.00 values – 100 sheets.
- New Zealand Post invited orders for either the 50c sheet on its own or complete sets of the five sheets prior to the issue date.
- It appears that in the 50c value at least New Zealand Post had produced an earlier version of the silver overprint. The correct overprint is a silver fern with segments or fronds within the fringe giving a realistic impression of a New Zealand fern leaf. The original printing takes the form of a larger silver fern which is solid in appearance and is foil-stamped over the black fern.
- A number of these “original” sheets with the solid overprint appear to have been sent out to clients who had ordered 50c sheets under New Zealand Post’s special offer. New Zealand Post must have realised after a few sheets had been sent out invoiced and paid for, that they had made an error and that the solid overprint was not up to the standards which they required for the souvenir silver overprinting.

- * New Zealand Post then telephoned the recipients of these "original" overprinted 50c sheets and explained that the overprint that they had received was not up to the standard required by New Zealand Post and requested them to return their sheet for replacement with a sheet overprinted with the "segmented" silver fern.

We have publicised our knowledge of the existence of this variety over the past several months in CP Newsletter and have requested further information from clients who may have received the original overprint 50c sheet and either kept it or returned it. None has been forthcoming.

Clearly, the "original" overprint sheet is very rare indeed. Its existence has been fully acknowledged by New Zealand Post and we enclose a copy of letter in confirmation.

We have been fortunate to have purchased from one of our clients one of the original sheets and have the greatest pleasure in enclosing for your approval an example of this significant error/rarity. We also enclose a copy - with the recipient's permission - of the invoice which was sent with the original sheet and on which our client made full payment.

In terms of provenance New Zealand Post's openness about the events, and expertisation and guarantees which we are able to add to this error, this is one of the most "gold plated" - or should we say "silver plated" - varieties in New Zealand stamp history. It is seldom that the issuance of such an item is so fully documented by the Postal Authority itself and it is seldom that evidence of purchase and payment and the full background of information is available to reassure buyers of its genuineness.

This variety has already been illustrated and written up in CP Newsletter (October 20003) and will be similarly illustrated and described in the CP Catalogue Revision for 2004.

It will therefore become one of the "classic" varieties for collectors to own and with what may well be a maximum of 100 available examples can only gain in rarity and value in the years ahead. It will receive a catalogue value in our next revision of not less than $1,500.

We are privileged to be able to make this offer to you as one of our most valued clients. It bears our unconditional guarantee of expertisation and genuineness.

With regards,

Yours sincerely
