The Bixby Creek Bridge on the Big Sur coast, is one of the most photographed bridges in California due to its aesthetic design and magnificent setting. It is a reinforced concrete open-spandrel arch bridge. The bridge is 13 miles south of Carmel. Before the opening of the bridge in 1932, residents of the area were cut off during winter due to blockages on the often impassable Old Coast Road. The bridge was built for $199,861 (equivalent to $3.2 million in 2020 dollars) and, at 360 feet was the longest concrete arch span in the California State Highway System. When it was completed, it was the highest single-span arch bridge in the world, and it remains one of the tallest.
