SERIES OF 1923-1925

The spaces provided on this page are for stamps originally prepared for sidewise rotary press coils, but due to short lengths and imperfect sheets these had been set aside as "waste." They had received the vertical 10 gauge perforations as part of the long roll. This "waste" was reclaimed and issued in sheet form by perforating horizontally on the flat plate machines then set at 11 gauge thus creating the 11 by 10 perforation for these stamps.

Theodore Roosevelt

James A. Garfield

On April 21, 1923, the Post Office Department issued the one cent stamp of the 1922 Series in sheets run on the rotary presses. They were the first rotary press sheet stamps in this series so issued. The original intentions were to precancel all of rotary press printings by a special attachment that was possible on this type of press, but a cost analysis proved that the rotary press printings were far lower in cost than the flat press work and it was decided to produce the other denominations to 10c in both regular and precancelled form.

This change on the 1½c Harding stamp was made in order to make the stamp conform in design with the balance of the lower values of the series and present a more pleasing portrait of the former President.

KANSAS OVERPRINTS
1929

Benjamin Franklin

Warren G. Harding

George Washington

The "KANSAS" and "NEBRASKA" overprinted stamps were issued as a means of preventing the sale of stolen stamps, but the experiment was soon found to have loopholes and failed. There was no first day of issue for these stamps, but supplies were first placed on sale at the Philatelic Agency, Washington, D. C., May 1, 1929. Earliest known cancellations from the States of Kansas and Nebraska seem to be April 15, 1929.
