Map of Canada

Issued on June 29, 1927, these stamps mark Canada's sixtieth anniversary as a united country. Under the British North American Act of 1867, four colonies were united as the Dominion of Canada. In the years since, six more provinces and two territories have been added to the country. With some revisions, the Act of 1867 remains the "constitution" of Canada, setting forth the division of power between the federal government and the provinces and confirming the legal and language rights of the French.

BELL CENTENNIAL

1947

Alexander Graham Bell

This stamp marks the 100th anniversary of the birth of Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone. Born in Scotland, Bell later came to America and in 1870 moved to Canada. His interest in the problems of the deaf led him to invent the telephone. He died in 1922.

ELIZABETH

1948

Princess Elizabeth

On November 20, 1947, Princess Elizabeth, daughter of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, was married to Philip Mountbatten. This stamp, which was issued on February 16, 1948, honors her marriage. The Princess, who was born in 1926, ascended the throne in 1952.

CITIZENSHIP

1947

Citizen of Canada

Under Canada's Citizenship Act, which went into effect on January 1, 1947, residents of Canada no longer were British subjects but were citizens of their native land. This stamp was issued on July 1, 1947, which also was the eightieth anniversary of Confederation.

RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT

1948

Victoria, George and Parliament Buildings

This stamp—issued on October 1, 1948—commemorates the centenary of responsible government in Canada. Canada achieved this authority during the reign of Queen Victoria, shown on the left of the stamp; King George VI, reigning monarch in 1948, is on the right.

NEWFOUNDLAND

1949

Cabot's "Matthew"

Newfoundland became a British crown colony in 1933; prior to that year, it had been a self-governing dominion since 1855. In 1949 it decided to join Canada as the country's tenth province. This stamp, issued on April 1, 1949, marks Newfoundland's entry.

HALIFAX

1949

Halifax in 1749

Halifax—which was to become the capital of Nova Scotia—was founded in 1749 by the Honorable Edward Cornwallis as a rival to Louisburg on Cape Breton. The city was named after the second Earl of Halifax. This stamp was issued to mark its bicentennial.

ROYAL VISIT

1951

Princess Elizabeth & Duke of Edinburgh

The year before she succeeded her father as monarch, Princess Elizabeth visited Canada with her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh. This stamp was issued on October 26, 1951 to mark the royal visit. While on this trip to North America, the couple also visited the United States.

The Provinces of Prince Edward Island, British Columbia and Manitoba followed into Confederation shortly after the original Provinces banded together. At that time, the sizes of the stamps were reduced and additional values added to cover various postal needs. These were produced by the British-American Bank Note Co. in Montreal and Ottawa up to 1875 after which they were ordered to print them in Montreal Only. In 1888 the printing plant was moved to Ottawa from where all later printings were done. The stamps issued before February 1888 are generally referred to as Montreal printings and printings after that date are called Ottawa printings.
