Postmark: Jerusalem (the date you can make out in the Pollak's Handbook of the Turkish Posts). The Postmark is Pollak Type N in use from V. 1912 to IX 1917.

Censormark is not clear, the shape can be Beirut or Damas. Its a preprinted card to send the September Issue of the "MOTOR" to the undersigned Army address (which is not mentioned on the card). The rectangular handstamp: Eingang : 21. Jan. 1916) is the office mark of the Braunbeck Verlag in Berlin (Verlag - publishing house).

Nov 16, 1915 Jerusalem
This card must have been posted back in 1915. I think its no Fieldpost, but sent by a civilian, who forgot to give his address, or an officer of the advance mission there, can even have been a Turk or an Austrian, as there is not postage. On back I can decipher the upper censormark with the star, could be Quads (Jerusalem). On my second look, I am writing my findings directly ~~in the~~ with the typewriter, I find the "Censormark" on the front is not a censormark at all. The word POSTES is clearer

The crossed flags of Turkey and Egypt at the bottom center of each stamp contain the words "Holy War" in the right hand flag. Postcard rate was 20 para.; first class mail was 40 para in the Turkish Empire at this time. The stamps were prepared by the Ministers of State and War . No one knows by whom or where these stamps were printed.

A german officer, previously instructed to do so, destroyed the stamps when defeat and capture seemed inevitable. The Pasha , present at the burning, confiscated a few stamps and sheets as souvenirs.
