Tip of the week

East Germany — Most early issues of East Germany are still in great demand and, surprisingly, prices continue to rise.

You still can find good East German sets in the United States at prices substantially lower than collectors in Germany have to pay.

Years ago, East German stamps were sold to dealers in the United States in large quantities to raise hard currency for the East German communist government.

On May 1, 1950, East Germany issued a single 30-pfennig stamp to commemorate the 60th anniversary of the Eastern bloc's Labor Day, Scott 53.

The printing was 5 million stamps, but many were used on mail.

Nowadays this stamp is in great demand in mint

East Germany's 1950 Labor Day stamp, Scott 53, no longer available in large quantities, is in demand in Germany.

condition.

The 1997 Scott catalog values the mint, never-hinged stamp at $14, unchanged from the 1996 retail value.

Dealers in Germany are offering to pay about $11 for the stamp, and they are selling it for approximately $17.

Be sure to buy this East German stamp in the United States soon. You'll be glad you did. — J.R.
