SHIPS' FLAMES IN CENTRAL AMERICA—Heavy smoke pours from the Italian liner Fella (right) after this ship and the German freighter Eisenach (left) had been set afire off Punta Arenas, Costa Rica, on Monday. The Fella may have been damaged, but the Eisenach was reported a total loss. The arrests of 120 seamen and officers followed the sabotage.

BOSTON TRAVELER, THURSDAY, APRIL 3, 1941

making the statement in German, which to prepare special pleas, At Judge McEllan's decision to enter pleas of not guilty, Johnston asked that it be noted on the record that the pleas had gone in through court order. Brandon made no objection.

Brandon, asking for high bail, declared:

"My conception of bail is this matter is that it should reflect the seriousness of the offense. It should be substantial enough to insure the presence of these defendants when wanted."

"These men, by the nature of their pleas, are apparently objecting to the jurisdiction of this court."

"I am informed that they were advised by representatives of their government as to how they should conduct themselves. There is a probability that these men won't be available for trial unless substantial bail is set."

BRANDON'S SUGGESTION

As the arraignment ended, court emptied into the corridor which quickly became so jammed with officers, newsmen, spectators and defendants that marshals had to clear it.

The defendants had been in detention at the immigration bureau since their ship was seized by Customs Guards in raids that also took the Italian freighter Dino and three Danish cargo vessels.

Their arrest today was made by a group of federal officers headed by U. S. Marshal J. Henry Goggin.

VISITED BY CONSUL

Shortly after their arrival at the marshal's office, they were visited by Consul Scholz.

An exchange of Nazi salutes and a grim "Heil Hitler" passed.

Dear Edna: It was 24/30 good to get your letter but I was so distressed that I did not know about the Lawrence.
Please give Elizabeth my sympathy.
I know you will have a hard time disposing of all the things which the Governor brought together but it is long since some are the forgotten.
So give them over using the upper room to go. May love to you
