Hometown: Los Angeles, CA
School: Garfield High
Club: Resurrection Gym
Weight Class: Lightweight

Despite his youth, 19-year-old Oscar De La Hoya was named USA Boxing's 1991 Boxer of the Year because he boxes like a veteran with years of experience. He began his string of successes in '88; he took a first place in the Junior Olympics and followed that with firsts in the '89 National Golden Gloves, '90 U.S. Championships, '90 Goodwill Games, '91 U.S. Championships, and '91 U.S. Olympic Festival.
