- 1) The mails are loaded from the supply-ship into the longboats, ready to go ashore.
- 2) From the Landing, the mails are conveyed by 'Flying Fox' to the Edge, some 400ft up.
- 3) A tractor transports the mails from the Edge to the village of Adamstown...
- 4) ...where they are off-loaded in front of the Post Office in the Square, to be sorted.

The Mutiny on the Bounty 1789-1989

After a five month stay at Matavai Bay, Tahiti, where the crew collected breadfruit plants, HMS 'Bounty' sailed for the West Indies on 4 April 1790. Twenty-four days later, near Pongā, some of the crew mutinied. Lieutenant Bligh, with eighteen seamen, was set adrift in an open boat and 'Bounty', with the mutineers led by Fletcher Christian, sailed off to find a safe refuge.

PITCAIRN ISLANDS BICENTENARY

Having landed some of their compatriots in Tahiti the nine remaining mutineers and nineteen Polynesians set sail in search of a remote uninhabited refuge. On 15 January 1790 'Bounty' reached Pitcairn.

Island which exceeded the mutineers' highest hopes; it proved an admirable hideaway. Stripped of her fittings 'Bounty' was burned eight days later and the new inhabitants went about settling their new island home.

PITCAIRN ISLANDS BICENTENARY

"Pitcairn Island celebrated the bicentenary of its settlement by re-enacting the landing by the 'Bounty' mutineers, erecting commemorative plaques, holding a memorial church service, playing a cricket match, burning a model 'Bounty' and a fireworks display."

20th Universal Postal Congress

A review of historical methods of delivering the mail in the United States is the theme of these four stamps issued in commemoration of the convening of the 20th Universal Postal Congress in Washington, D.C. on November 13 through December 14, 1989. The United States, as host nation to the Congress for the first time in ninety-two years, welcomes more than 1,000 delegates from most of the member nations of the Universal Postal Union to the major international event.

SHIPS CRESTS

HMS ESKIMO (2700 tons) is a "Tribal" class frigate launched in 1960 and carries a Wessex helicopter for anti-submarine reconnaissance. Her badge depicts a reindeer's head, reflecting her name. She visited Tristan in September 1970.

HMS NAIAD (2860 tons) is a "Leander" class frigate launched in 1963. She carries "Seacat" anti-aircraft guided missile equipment and a helicopter. Her badge features a golden sea-nymph - a "Naiad". She visited Tristan in November 1968.

HMS JAGUAR (2920 tons) is a "Leopard" class anti-aircraft frigate launched in 1955 and designed primarily for convoy protection. She visited Tristan in March 1964 and her badge illustrates her name.

HMS LONDON (6200 tons) is a "County" class destroyer launched in 1961. She is equipped with "Sea slug" and "Seacat" missile launchers and a Wessex anti-submarine helicopter. She visited Tristan in December 1964. Her badge features a red dagger.

Royal Navy ships have had their own individual crests for many years, but only since 1918 have they been officially recognised and designed in proper heraldic form. The badge shown below belongs to HMS JUNO, a "Leander" class frigate which has also visited Tristan, and it features the head of Juno, the wife of Jupiter.
