Spring Morning in the Han Palace Handscroll Postage Stamps (First Issue)

This "Spring Morning in the Han Palace" Handscroll, measuring 18 feet 10 inches long and one foot high, painted by Chiu Ying in color and ink on silk is reproduced in two installments to respond to the Chinese Cultural Renaissance Campaign. The first installment, consisting of a strip of five stamps reproducing the right half part of the scroll and two stamps figuring enlarged portions of some significant scenes of the strip, was released on June 20, 1973. This handscroll depicts the life of women of the court, and the magnificence of the imperial court and royal garden.

為配合推行復興中華文化運動，特選故宮博物院珍藏之漢宮春曉圖為題材，籌印漢宮春曉圖古畫郵票一組。是項郵票全套十四枚，分上下兩輯發行，每輯包括五連圖一組及特寫圖二枚。按漢宮春曉卷為絹本，高三〇·六公分、橫五七·四公分，係明人仇英所繪，宮殿樓閣，山石卉木，宦侍宮娥，各執其事，描繪宮中嬪妃生活極為生動，上輯七枚中，除五連圖一組係描繪原圖右半卷外，其餘二枚則係擷取該半卷原圖中較為突出之澆花及彈琴二種動態作特寫介紹，定於本年六月二十日發行。

The dark green is the normal color one sees but the totally different green single (quite genuine) must be a most rare variation. This is the first I've ever seen.

A beautiful looking unused copy most rare in this shade. (I do not attempt to price it in the Basic Cat.) Large even margins. There is a minute thin spot, a very minor scrape of the paper in the centre at the back of the stamp. Not much of a fault after a hundred years of existence.
