Toy Story

The world's first full-length film to be created by computer animation, Toy Story tells the excellent tale of the favourite pair of playthings belonging to young Andy Davis. One is a cowboy called Woody, while the second is a spaceman, Buzz Lightyear. Just toys when humans are near, these two very different characters come alive when they're on their own. Then they mingle with their many friends, toys like Rex the dinosaur, Slinky

Dog and the ever-changing vegetable man, Mr. Potato Head. Other leading lights include the famous shepherdess, Bo Peep, and the highly efficient, model regiment of Green Army Men. Aside from the wide array of toys, the film also features children and adults. There's the boy Andy, of course, who lives with his mother. There's also Sid, an evil young child living next-door to Andy, and there's Sid's younger sister, Hannah.
