With the outbreak of the Civil War all previous U.S. postage issues were declared valueless, to prevent their use by Confederates. During the war the 1861-66 stamps were also used by Northerners as "small change," due to the lack of metal coins. These varieties include the famous "Black Jacks" honoring President Andrew Jackson; and the first Abraham Lincoln stamp marking the anniversary of his assassination.

Some people resorted to the crafty practice of erasing the cancellation marks on stamps and re-using them. In an unsuccessful effort to stop this procedure the Government impressed into the paper on a small quantity of the 1861-66 issues tiny pyramidal designs, called "grills." Since there were many types of grills, a collection of "stamps with grills" is an interesting but very expensive philatelic specialty.

Because of their odd size and the few familiar portraits, these stamps originally were disliked by the general public. Today, however, all of them are very popular with philatelists. They are the first U.S. pictorials, the first adhesive bicolours, and the shortest-lived regular issue in U.S. postal history. Some of the 15c, 24c and 30c values were printed by error with inverted centers, and have become great rarities.

These four issues often confuse collectors because of their resemblance to previous issues. But, on closer examination, minor design differences and new colors as well as new designs distinguish them from their predecessors (refer to STAMP IDENTIFIER).

TRANS-MISSISSIPPI EXPOSITION

A scene from Father Marquette's explorations of the Mississippi River.

Grain harvesting with horse-drawn combines was slow and tedious.

Buffalo were prized by the Indians for food and clothing.

John Charles Frémont planted a U.S. flag on highest peak in Rocky Mts.

The U.S. Cavalry that protected settlers from fierce Indian attacks.

Death of a horse pulling a "Prairie Schooner" was a typical hardship.

Here is a typical gold-mining prospector with his burros and dog.

Western cattle were often killed by blizzards and howling winds.

A marvel of the 1890's: bridge over the Mississippi at St. Louis, Mo.

Baffling Post Office burglaries were frequent in the mid-west and the Department tried an impractical scheme to stop its losses. The regular issues of 1926-27 were overprinted "Kans." and "Nebr." for use in those two states. Often called "state control stamps."

Since conditions in China were not conducive to good postal service for many years, the large commercial nations of the West had to operate their own post offices in some of the Chinese cities. In 1919, 16 different values of the U.S. 1917-19 issues were overprinted "Shanghai, China", and revalued in local currency.
