The director... stuffer would help give the pig some... and it did. Soon Porky Pig was earning

In his early years on film, the Porky Pig character experienced several changes, appearing as a thirt, fether, and young sutor in succeeding cartoons. Later, Porky Pig became a more consistent personality, with a gentle stammer, wide-eyed appearance, and boyish nature. Eventually, Porky Pig was redesigned as a more adult-looking character.

Some of Porky Pig's funniest scenes were with Daffy Duck, who made his debut in Porky's Duck Hunt. Playing the straight man, Porky Pig and the silly duck were teamed up regularly after that. Porky Pig was also occasionally given a girlfriend, Petunia.

On this stamp, Porky Pig appears as a diligent U.S. mail carrier below his trademark signoff, "That's all Folks!" Appropriately, this is the fifth and final stamp in the Postal Service's Looney Tunes series. Have one to steal all of the attention. Porky Pig is joined on the final Looney Tunes souvenir sheet by the other characters who appeared in this stamp series: Bugs Bunny, Sylvester and Tweety, Daffy Duck, and Wile E. Coyote and Road Runner.

This stamp was issued on October 1, 2001, in Nevada Hills, California.
