SEREMBAN G.P.O.

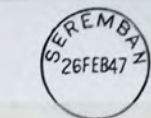

The office was originally designated Sungai Ujong (1878-94) before the formation of Negri Sembilan as a postal authority. Seremban is a town due to British protection. "There is no mention of Seremban in tradition or history before 1874" (J.M. Gullick, M.A. in JM.BRAS, Vol XXII (1948). Gullick's explanation is that the name is derived from the Malay word, beremban, from the mist which lay over tin workings in a long narrow dip (near the site of the town). The word Beremban was corrupted by the according to the Dato Klana, to Seremban.

FRASER'S HILL. Named after James Fraser, a lone trader of tin ore in the 1890s. He disappeared from Pahang. Bishop Ferguson-Davie searched for him in 1916 without success. However, Bishop Ferguson-Davie returned to report the natural beauty of the area where he searched and because of the need at that time (it was during World War 1 when Europeans due for leave were unable to return to Europe) a hill station was developed and named after Fraser.
