Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

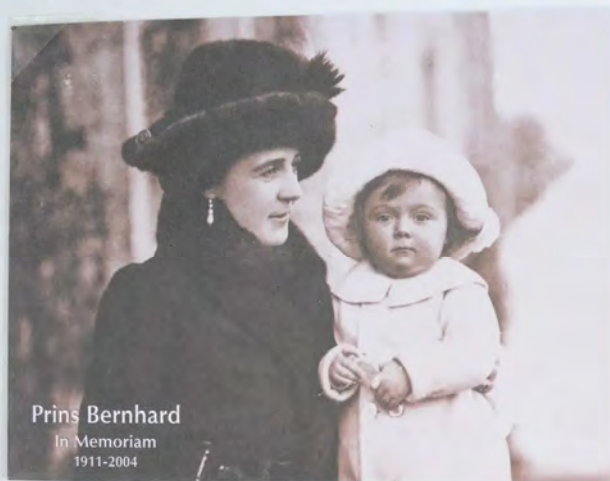

The Prince Bernhard Fund in the Netherlands Indies

In the Netherlands Indies there existed already the KWF (Queen Wilhelmina Fund). Immediately after the Homeland was attacked this fund started to collect money. When the Prince Bernhard Fund (PBF) came along it was decided that almost all the money collected by the KWF (some 5 million guilders!) would be transferred to the PBF.

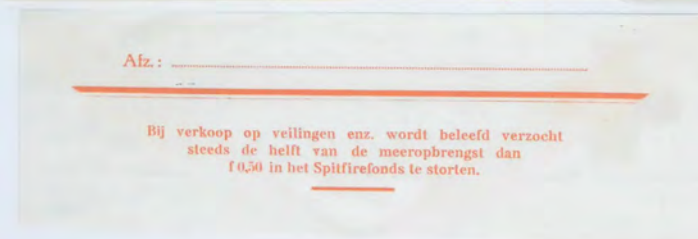

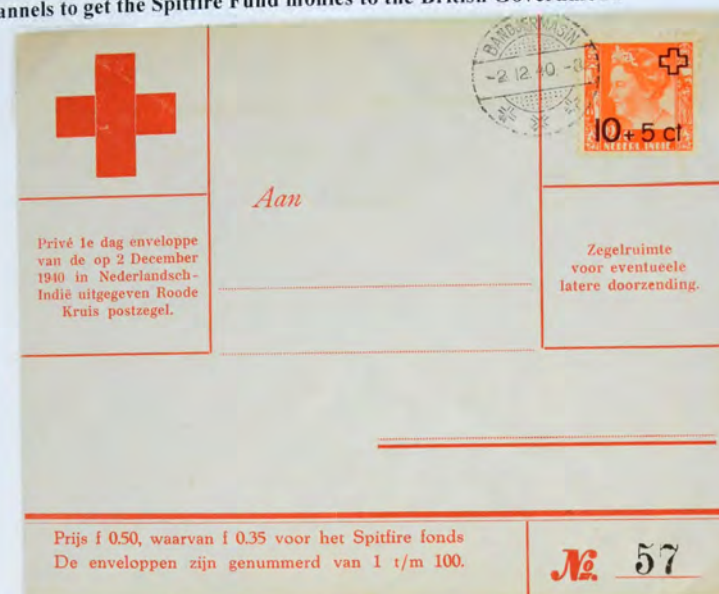

Also there was already a Spitfire Fund, started by the British and Chinese business community in the NEI. However, the Dutch community also contributed heavily. Below a letter to South Africa, adorned with a sticker "Help the N.I. Spitfire Fund".

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in the Netherlands Indies

Below a First Day Cover of the Red Cross issue of 2.12.40. The text shows that 35 ct of the 50 ct purchase price was for the Spitfire Fund. On the reverse there is a request to send 50% of the profit at resale or auction also to the Spitfire Fund. The Prince Bernhard Fund existed already by then and in fact it used its channels to get the Spitfire Fund monies to the British Government.

Another FDC of the 2.12.40 Red Cross issue shows a cachet that was to become the central design of the stamp issue that was to appear six months later. We believe that the design originated with the Philatelic Club in Siantar (Sumatra).

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in the Netherlands Indies

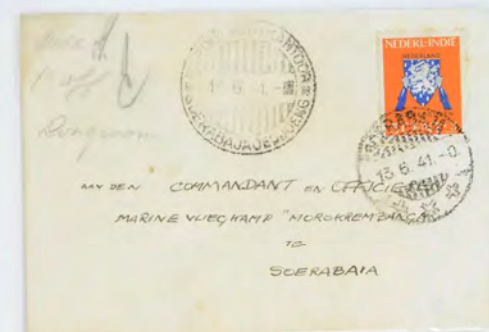

The "N.I. Spitfire Fund" and the "Prince Bernhard Fund" collaborated closely and in fact their headquarters were in the same building in Batavia. On March 9, 1941, the two Funds amalgamated formally. From this date on the official name is "Vereenigde Prins Bernhard en Spitfire Fondsen", the United Funds in short. We find that designation also on the FDC of the Spitfire set, including the joined Dutch and British flags. Note also the gutter structure and the etching numbers.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in the Netherlands Indies

The "United Prince Bernhard and Spitfire Funds" had their main office in Batavia. However, there were more than 40 Chapters throughout the N.E.I. The envelope below is from the Soerabaja Chapter witness the cancel and the bottom line of the cachet. The envelope was pre-franked with the complete set of "Nederland Zal Herrijzen" stamps and cancelled on the Day of Issue 10.5.41. One could call it a blank FDC.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in the Netherlands Indies

The Siantar philatelic club made also FDCs, complete with a splendid Spitfire cachet. Note the reference to the United Funds. Similar FDCs also exist with single frankings.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in the Netherlands Indies

The FDC below shows two cachets; a Spitfire plane and a "Nederland zal Herrijzen" cachet. The cancel is from Medan, so this is possibly a product of the Medan stamp club. On the reverse a seal with the same motto. The coat of arms at left is the old Batavia shield, whereas the one on the right resembles that of present-day Surinam.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in the Netherlands Indies

Two similar FDCs. The top one is from Soerabaja, made by a E. Ho Swee Jr. The bottom one, with an even more modest cachet, is from Batavia, probably made by stamp dealer "Universe" who is the addressee. Both covers are correct single frankings, the top one being printed matter to the USA and the other a domestic letter. The stickers show the shields of Batavia and of Surinam of old.

A very unusual correct single franking of the 10+10 ct Spitfire stamp. It is a signature (ID) card of the Makassar Post Office. Mrs. Coldenhoff could actually write since her signature is there. To make doubly sure the fingerprints were added. Above the stamp the text shows that a 10 ct franking was due.

This registered letter to the USA is heavily overfranked with the 1+1 Gld. However, without patriotic fervor we might never have seen such a single franking. The letter was sent from Soerabaja on 15.5.41. The letter was read by the censor (Soerabaja 2) and bears the appropriate censuur/deviezen mark.

Other correct frankings are possible by combination. The letter shown below was sent by surface mail to South Africa. "Per KPM" it says on the top left. Indeed the first part would have been by KPM ship since the sender was located in Kandanganparee on East Java. The combination of a 10 and 5 ct stamp makes the sea mail rate. The letter was opened both by NEI and South African censors.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund

Two more 15 ct frankings first surface letter rate foreign destination. At top a letter to Canada and at bottom a 3 x 5 = 15 ct franking to Bradford, UK. Both letters opened by NEI censor and the UK letter also by a UK censor.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund

Three single frankings. The 5ct is local (Soerabaja) printed matter, the 10ct is a domestic letter and the 1gld (air mail per KNILM to Manilla and onwards by TAA to the USA) is obviously overfranked, all to the good of the PBF.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in the Netherlands Indies

The domestic letter rate was 10 ct, and the EXPRESS fee was 25 ct; combined 35 ct as shown on this letter from Soerabaja to Malang. The cancel is 30.5.41.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in the Netherlands Indies

The dot-dot-dot-stripe is the morse code for "V" (for Victory). The symbol was used world-wide during WW II. Many persons and organizations made their own "V" hand stamps, to keep the freedom activities alive. The bottom example in addition shows a scarce correct franking of the Spitfire 5+5 ct stamp, this being the domestic Newspaper rate (from Soerabaja 18.9.41).

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in the Netherlands Indies

There was also a machine cancel in use in Batavia for a few months, with the "Nederland Zal Herrijzen" slogan. Above the slogan the official Netherlands Coat of Arms with the two lions. This envelope, with its patriotic cachet was in use with the Office of the Prince Bernhard Fund; they even enjoyed freedom of franking privileges.

Another "V" sticker complete with the "Nederland Zal Herrijzen" slogan and the dot-dot-dot-stripe Morse code. The letter is from Padang; stamps are cancelled 11.10.41 and the censor mark is of 15.10.41.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

Patriotic stickers were abundant. Usually they had a 5 or 10 ct price tag with the proceeds going to the Prince Bernhard Fund. The sticker on this 12.12.41 cover was printed by Kolff who also printed the "Free Netherlands" stamps.

What is more symbolic than a (20 ct) Queen Wilhelmina, dramatically flanked by two "The Netherlands Shall Rise" stamps? This 19.5.41 letter from Talangpadang was opened by NEI censors but not by US censors. This was still pre-Pearl Harbor. Arrival date was July 2, 1941. Note also the "Nederland Zal Herrijzen" logo in the bottom left corner. Quite a patriotic piece!

The symbol of the coat of arms with the Dutch lion held up by two arms was universally adopted as a logo for the freedom battle. On this letter it is found on the back as a rubber stamp in reddish purple. It is a local Batavia letter, so it is overfranked by 5 ct; no doubt deliberately to support the cause.

Another patriotic cachet with the Coat of Arms with Lion and Sword such as used on the "Nederland Zal Herrijzen" stamps. This particular cachet is very similar to one used by the Prince and others in London UK, except that with the British one there are two lines of extra text saying "The Netherlands Shall Rise Again". Undoubtedly copied. This cover is from Palembang, cancelled 4.10.41.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

In 1947 there was apparently still sufficiently stock of the "Spitfire" stamps to include them in a collection of N.E.I. stamps presented to the attending members at the 1947 UPU Congress in Paris. The poor French is also noteworthy.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in Curaçao.

In Curaçao it was decided not to follow the example of the Netherlands Indies and Surinam with their Vrij Nederland stamps, but instead issue a set of stamps of their own design. The result was a set of eight semi-postal air mail stamps, which were printed by the American Bank Note Company, in a combination of plate- and photo engraving. Only 9 000 sets were printed and sold. The surtax was fl.3,35 per set, so that more than fl.30,000.00 for the Prince Bernhard Fund was generated. Date of issue was 11.XII.1941.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

All values are known with the same plate error: a black dot just below the sword and above the tongue of the lion. The entire 6th row shows this plate fault. This is not a rarity since 10% of all stamps exhibit it. It is still a challenge, though, to collect a complete set of these plate errors.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The registered letter to Havana, Cuba, dated 20.2.42, below is one of many philatelic or patriotic frankings of this set. It is addressed to a Mr. Maduro, one of the prominent business families of Curaçao. The 15 and the 20 ct have the "black dot under sword" plate error.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The surtax from the stamps was only a tiny fraction of the fl.935,000.00 collected in the Colony of Curaçao for the Prince Bernhard Fund in WW II. The stickers but also the "V for victory" marks such as on the letter below were but a small part of the continuous effort to collect more money. This "V" mark occurs usually combined with a "Remember....." exhortation. Prominent families such as the Moreno Brandao, the Maduro and the brothers Curiel were very active in their patriotism.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in Curaçao.

Under the many efforts to help the War effort in general and the PBF in particular there was this private effort by the E. Moreno Brandao Company in Willemstad. Not only did they produce a warning hand stamp regarding the occupation of the Netherlands, on the reverse of their letters one often finds a "V for Victory" slogan. This one is in purple; it is also known in black and in blue. This letter is of 2.4.42; it was not opened by the censor as was standard with mail from 'well-known persons or businesses'.

The Island set which appeared 1.2.43 was occasion for many patriotic sentiments Below and on the next page four FDCs with patriotic cachets. On two of them the "V" symbol. Addressed to Alex Curiel on Aruba. All four covers have an Aruba Oranjestad 3.2.43 arrival post mark.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in Curaçao.

The Prince Bernhard fund Committee in Curaçao organized many fundraising events and activities. The letter fragment below is dated 28.10.41 and therefore predates the issue of the surtaxed stamps. The patriotic sticker was sold with the proceeds to the Prince Bernhard Fund. It says: "For Country and Freedom; Support the Prince Bernhard Fund Curaçao".

On the next page a letter with two of such stickers. The front of this registered letter carries a complete set of PBF stamps cancelled Willemstad 27.4.42

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in Curaçao.

The letter below originated from the Netherlands Consulate in Barranquilla, Colombia, cancelled 13.II.1941. The arrival postmark in Willemstad is also 13.2.41. The "Hollandia Resurgira" sticker of Buenos Aires origin, here used as a letter seal, therefore predates even the NEI "Vrij Nederland" stamps. It is the earliest documented activity of the Prince Bernhard Fund worldwide.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in Curaçao.

The letter below is dated 16.VIII.44, actually an FDC for the Princess Juliana stamp. The sticker has a Dutch-Spanish text "Holland will rise again" and at the bottom "The Prince Bernhard Fund". The sticker was developed by the Dutch community in Buenos Aires, Argentina. It is found on mail from Curaçao and Surinam but also on mail from the consulates in all of South and Central America.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

Patriotic Activities in support of the PBF in Curaçao.

Another patriotic sticker calls for help for the Dutch Navy. "Pro Marina Holandesa" is the text on this sticker printed in Bogota, Columbia. A call to join? Or a call for money for a new destroyer via the Prince Bernhard Fund?

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

Patriotic Activities in support of the PBF in Curaçao.

Another FDC with a patriotic cachet. "Flying for Freedom" is the slogan referring to the Spitfires and bombers that the PBF is planning to purchase. Probably one of the many philatelic-cum-patriotic efforts of the Curiel family.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

Patriotic Activities in support of the PBF in Curaçao.

The birth of Princess Margriet was another occasion to show moral and material support. At Margriet's baptism a family portrait was made, with Queen Wilhelmina and the proud father Bernhard attending. This resulted in two sets of stamps, in Surinam and in Curaçao. Below an FDC (again a Curiel family effort) with a cachet "Winging to Victory". The bomber refers to the war planes that the PBF wanted to purchase.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

Patriotic Activities in support of the PBF in Curaçao.

The same patriotic envelopes were also used for the 1.12.1943 FDCs of the "For Prisoners of War" overprints. This time the sender is known: Morris E. Curiel & Sons. This is the pater familias; the FDC is addressed to son Alex on Aruba.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

Patriotic Activities in support of the PBF in Curaçao.

The issue of the Princess Juliana Red Cross stamps of 16.8.1944 required a slight adaptation of the flag design cachet because of the number and size of the stamps. Also the FDC special hand mark moved to the back.

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

The Prince Bernhard Fund in Curaçao.

This cover, cancelled 15.XII.54 shows that the Prince Bernhard Fund continued to exist after the War. The Christmas seal says at the bottom: "Issued to support the 'Prins Bernhard Fonds' Netherlands Antilles". Later the Fund would change its name but in fact it still exists to-day.

Surinam chose to have the same "Nederland zal Herrijzen" stamps as the Netherlands Indies, be it in slightly different denominations. They were printed by Kolff & Co in Batavia and issued in Surinam on 30.VIII.1941. This was 3 ½ months later than in the East Indies but it was the birthday of Queen Wilhelmina! The stamps are known in imperfed state; it is not clear whether these are proofs or a proof printing. Since the stamps were printed in double sheets, horizontal gutter pairs are known. In the top selvedge one may therefore find "L" or "R" designations.

Amongst the First Day covers there are those that bear no Address but they do show the "GEZIEN/CENSUUR" hand stamp, always from censors 18 and 20. Also there is the censor date mark "300841". We assume that these covers had a pencilled address, which was later removed. Alternately, these covers may have been totally contrived. They were prepared by a Miss Nahar, whose father was a translator-interpreter for the Government. Plenty opportunity for favors.

Another "Nederland zal Herrijzen" sticker was developed in Great Britain. The sticker below was printed by "Vrij Nederland", the Dutch Free Press in London. From there it found its way to Surinam, where it was used as a seal on this letter to the USA. The letter was opened by both the Surinam and US censors. The date is 26.8.42, the last known date for this type of Surinam re-sealing strip.

The "Nederland zal Herrijzen" stickers in support of Het Prins Bernhard Fonds (see bottom of sticker) were an initiative of the Dutch Community in Buenos Aires. This sticker received a nice tie-on cancel in Willemstad. Note the date 9.7.41; this is even before the issue of the special stamps.

The birth of Princess Margriet and subsequent baptism brought both Queen Wilhelmina and proud father Bernhard to a family reunion in Ottawa. Both in Curaçao and Surinam this led to a 'Royal Family' set of stamps issued (in Surinam) 10.11.43. Some of the FDCs became expressions of patriotic sentiments as seen below and on the next page.

Op 11 september 1961 kwam in Zürich de World Wildlife Fund tot stand als resultaat van inspanningen van een Engelse werkgroep waarvan o.m. natuurkenners zoals Sir Julian Huxley, Guy Mounfort en Peter Scott deel uitmaakten. De organisatie van dit World Wildlife Fund (Wereld Natuur Fonds) heeft als voornaamste doelstellingen: het verzamelen, beheren en uitkeren van fondsen tot behoud van flora en fauna, het vaststellen van werkwijzen om tegemoet te kunnen komen aan de financiële noden van het natuurbehoud over de gehele wereld, te helpen bij het ontwerpen, vervaardigen en beschikbaar stellen van documentatie en materiaal ter verbreiding van de internationale natuurbeschermings-

Bernhard, Prince of the Netherlands 1911-2004

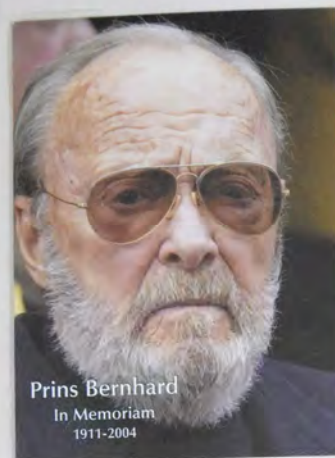

On June 29, 1911, Armgard, wife of the Count of Von Lippe-Biesterfeld gave birth to Bernhard Leopold Friedrich Eberhard Julius Kurt Karl Gottfried Peter, Count (later Prince) of Biesterfeld, noble Seigneur of Schwalenberg and Sternberg. This was on the Estate of Reckenwalde in the mini-state of Lippe-Detmold, in the Municipality of Jena. So it is the glass capital Jena where Bernhard was reistered in the Civil register.

Premier Balkenende noemde in zijn herdenkingsspraak op 2 december Bernhard een "unieke persoonlijkheid", die grote betrokkenheid toonde bij het Nederlandse verzet in de Tweede Wereldoorlog. Dankzij de prins, zo zei Balkenende, is de periode na de oorlog ordelijk verlopen.

Prins Bernhard Fonds

Het Prins Bernhard Fonds werd op 10 augustus 1940 te Londen opgericht met als doel het Nederlandse aandeel in de geallieerde oorlogvoering te vergroten. De witte anjer, de lievelingsbloem van de Regent en naamgever, werd het embleem van het Fonds. Omdat het niet in de laatste plaats de geestelijke vrijheid was welke gedurende de bezetting was bedreigd, werd het na de bevrijding zinvol geacht het Fonds zijn huidige doelstelling te geven: de bevordering van de zelfwerkzaamheid van het Nederlandse volk op het gebied van wetenschap, kunst en cultuur in het algemeen alsmede het uitdragen van de Nederlandse cultuur in de overzeese Rijksdelen en in het buitenland. In de praktijk betekent dit, dat het P.B.F. gelden inzamelt en daarmee Nederlandse culturele initiatieven ondersteunt. Het werkterrein valt in twee grote delen uiteen, t.w. de activiteiten van landelijke of nationale aard, welke door het landelijk P.B.F.-bestuur worden behartigd en de activiteiten van meer plaatselijk en regionaal karakter waarvoor de 14 Anjerfondsen (in elke provincie één en bovendien in Amsterdam, Den Haag en Rotterdam) als autonome regionale afdelingen van het P.B.F. in het leven zijn geroepen.
