1867 3¢ rose A grill

What makes a philatelic gem? It can be a stamp that is scarce, a stamp that is old, a stamp that is in exceptional condition.

When more than one of these factors overlap, as they do on the stamp shown at right, the results can be breathtaking.

As noted in previous columns, the experimental grilled issues of 1867-68 are among the most sought-after of the classic U.S. stamps.

Grilling is a security technique in which tiny, pyramidal steel teeth were embossed [illegible] breaking the paper fibers [illegible] would work, the A grill was not a great success.

This 1867 3¢ rose A grill with a fancy blue pinwheel cancel has a value of $885 in the Scott U.S. Specialized catalog. But its extraordinary condition propelled it to record auction prices: $6,050 in 1987; $8,250 in 1998; and $13,750 late in 1999.

As Siegel Auction Galleries President and U.S. stamp scholar Scott R. Trepel wrote, "It was soon learned that the all-over grill weakened the paper and interfered with perforating and separating, resulting in rough perforations and pieces torn out of the margins when split apart.

"Within two months of A grill production, the apparatus was modified by dividing the embossed area into small rectangular units within each stamp (which gave rise to the C Grill)."
